Book 1: The Silver Eagle

In the year 61 AD, Roman legions sweep across the rugged hills of Britain, forever altering its destiny. Amidst the chaos, a young British warrior named Corvus faces an impossible choice: fight for his people's freedom or embrace the inevitable tide of Roman conquest. As he navigates the treacherous landscape of war, Corvus must confront the harsh realities of battle, the allure of power, and the complexities of divided loyalties.

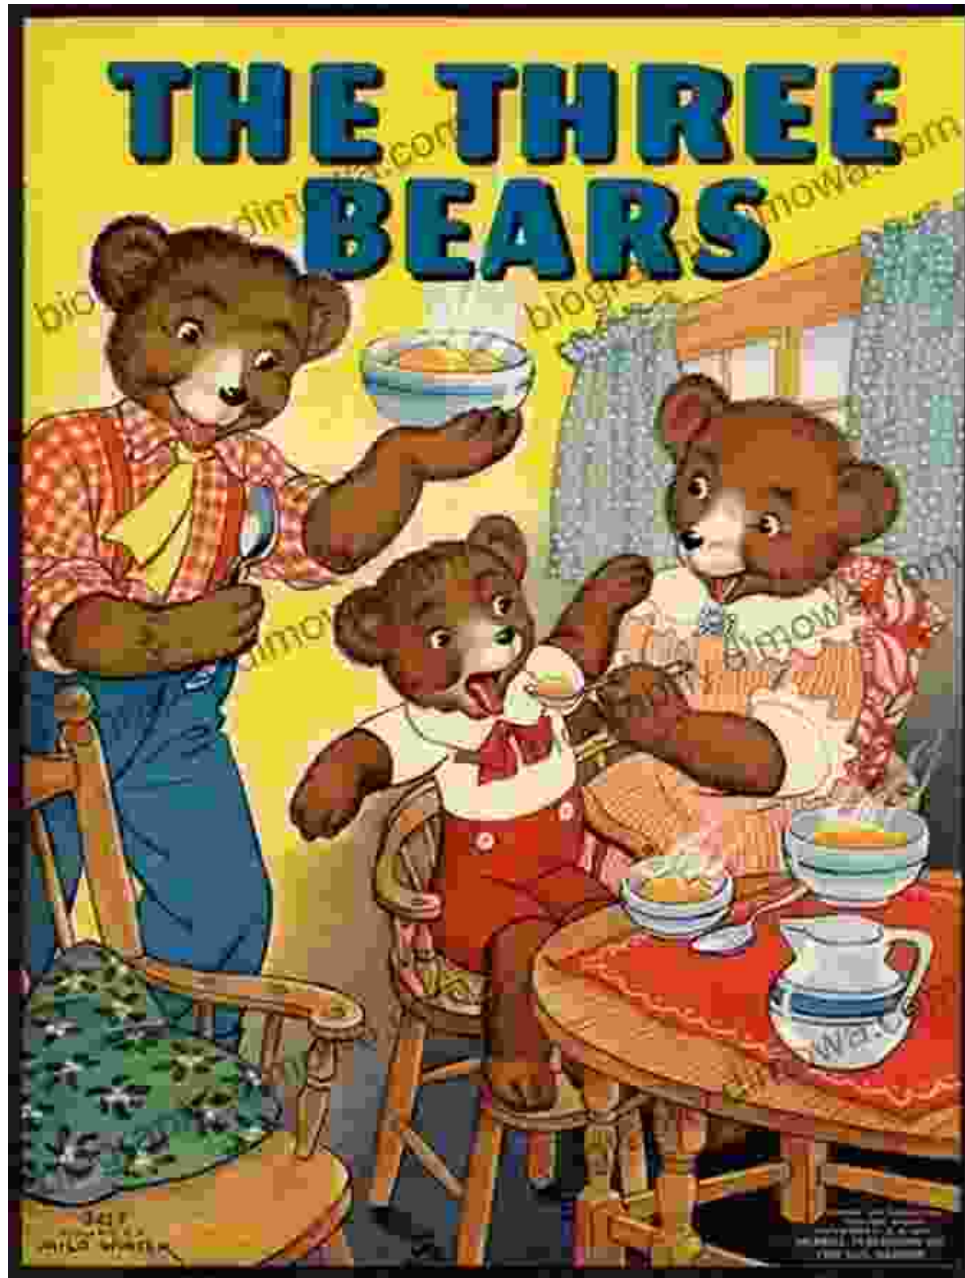

Book 2: The Shadow of the Eagle

Years later, as Roman legions consolidate their grip on Britain, the embers of resistance continue to flicker. Boudica, a fierce Celtic queen, rallies her people against the oppressive forces of Rome, igniting a bloody revolt that threatens to tear the province apart. In the midst of this turmoil, two young women, Claudia, a Roman general's daughter, and Catrin, a British slave, find their lives irrevocably intertwined. As the conflict escalates, they must confront their own beliefs and prejudices, navigating the perilous path between duty and love.

Book 3: The Dawn of the Bear

In the aftermath of Boudica's revolt, the fate of Britain hangs in the balance. Amidst the crumbling ruins and lingering tensions, a charismatic new leader emerges to unite the fractured tribes and challenge Roman authority. Aulus Plautius, a young and ambitious Roman general, finds himself drawn into the heart of this conflict, torn between his duty to Rome and his growing respect for the enigmatic British warrior he must defeat.
